Dear Parents

As you will be aware, this Friday, 8th May, is a Bank holiday in commemoration of VE Day. As such, teachers will not be setting work for that day. Of course, there will be no expectation from us for your children to work at home on that day either. I do hope that you have a good and relaxing weekend.

Please see our website for recent online safety and radicalisation guidance from the LA. Links to this information are below:
